

Benedictio Mulieris Praegnantis in periculis partus	Blessing of an Expectant Mother at the approach of confinement
	(In the Middle Ages it was customary for a pastor to announce from the pulpit on Sundays the names of women whose time of childbirth was close at hand, and to ask the people's prayers for them. But his solicitude did not stop there. He also visited the homes of such women, first said prayers outside the home, and then entered and administered the sacraments and the sacramentals of the Church. Without going quite to these lengths today, an occasional word of instruction about this very fine blessing would encourage some women to present themselves for it.)

R: Amen.

Oremus. Domine Deus, omnium Creator, fortis et terribilis, justus et misericors, qui solus bonus et pius es; qui de omni malo liberasti Israel, faciens tibi patres nostros dilectos, et sanctificasti eos manu Spiritus tui; qui gloriosae Virginis Mariae corpus et animam, ut dignum Filii tui habitaculum effici mereretur, Spiritu sancto cooperante praeparasti; qui Joannem Baptistam Spiritu sancto replesti, et in ltero matris exsultare fecisti: accipe sacrificium cordis contriti, ac fervens desiderium famulae

Psalmus 66

Deus misereatur nostri, et benedicat nobis * illuminet vultum suum super nos, et misereatur nostri.

Ut cognoscamus in terra viam tuam: * in omnibus gentibus salutare tuum.

tibi populi omnes.

adore their oneness of nature, their co-equal majesty; grant, we pray, that by steadfastness in that faith this servant of yours, N., may ever be guarded against all adversity; through Christ our Lord.

All: Amen.

Let us pray. Lord God, Creator of all things, mighty and awesome, just and forgiving, you alone are good and kind. You saved Israel from all manner of plagues, making our forefathers your chosen people, and hallowing them by the touch of your Spirit. You, by the co- operation of the Holy Spirit, prepared the body and soul of the glorious Virgin Mary to be a worthy dwelling for your Son. You filled John the Baptist with the Holy Spirit, causing him to leap with joy in his mother's womb. Accept the offering of a humble spirit, and grant the heartfelt desire of your servant, N. who pleads for the safety of the child you allowed her to conceive. Guard the life that is yours; defend it from all the craft and spite of the pitiless foe.
Let your gentle hand, like that of a skilled physician, aid her delivery, bringing her offspring safe and sound to the light of day.
May her child live to be reborn in holy baptism, and continuing always in your service, be found worthy of attaining everlasting life; through Christ our Lord.

All: Amen.

The priest sprinkles the woman with holy water and then adds the following:

Psalm 66

P: May God have pity on us and bless us; * may He let His face shine upon us.

All: So may His way be known upon earth; *
among all nations, His salvation.

P: May the peoples praise you, O God; * may all the peoples praise you.

Laetentur et exsultent gente S: * quoniam judicas populos in aequitate, et gentes in terra dirigis.

All: May all the nations be glad and exult because you rule the peoples in equity; * you guide the nations on earth.

Confiteantur tibi populi Deus: confiteantur tibi populi omnes: * terra dedit fructum suum.

P: May the peoples praise you, O God; * may
all the peoples praise you.

Benedicat nos Deus, Deus noster, benedicat nos Deus: * et metuant eum omnes fines terrae.

All: The earth has yielded its fruits; * God, our God, has blessed us.

P: May God bless us, * and may all the ends of the earth fear him.

Oremus. Visita, quaesumus Domine, habitationem istam, et omnes insidias inimici ab ea, et a praesenti famula tua N. longe repelle: Angeli tui sancti habitent in ea, qui eam et ejus prolem in pace custodiant, et benedictio tua sit super eam semper. Salva eos, omnipotens Deus, et lucem eis tuam concede perpetuam.
Per Christum Dominum nostrum.

Let us pray. Lord, we beg you to visit this dwelling, and to drive away from it and from this servant of yours, N., all the enemy's wiles.
Let your holy angels be appointed here to keep her and her offspring in peace; and let your blessing ever rest upon her. Save them, almighty God, and grant them your everlasting light; through Christ our Lord.

R: Amen.

All: Amen.

Benedictio Dei omnipotentis, Patris, et Filii, et Spiritus sancti, descendat super te, et prolem tuam, et maneat semper.

May the blessing of almighty God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, come on you and your child, and remain with you forever.

R: Amen.

All: Amen.
